ICA San Diego Welcomes Katerina Vo as Director of Learning and Engagement

Vo Joins Most Recently from the International Center of Photography in New York City

Encinitas, Calif. (April 9, 2024) — The Institute of Contemporary Art (ICA), San Diego is pleased to welcome Katerina Vo as its new Director of Learning and Engagement. Beginning April 8, 2024, Vo will lead and shape the educational, engagement and community outreach initiatives for ICA San Diego and its campuses in Balboa Park and Encinitas. Those efforts include ICA San Diego’s extensive art valise program, ceramics classes, and youth and teen camps. Its education programming is part of the experimental organization’s overall commitment to enriching communities by translating contemporary art’s positive impact.

Vo is an artist, educator and arts administrator, driven by a passion for art’s ability to fundamentally change how people see and interact with the world. Vo joins ICA San Diego from the International Center of Photography in New York City where she spearheaded dynamic community programs and partnerships. She brings years of experience in outreach and engagement in museums and institutions and as an arts educator. Her experience living and working across the United States, Spain, Argentina and Cuba lends a global perspective to her approach and a dedication to engaging and empowering diverse audiences through the arts.

Vo holds a dual degree in Photography and Social and Cultural Analysis from New York University, and is excited to begin this new chapter using art as a catalyst for fostering connection, dialogue, and mutual understanding in San Diego.

INTERFACE SEASON. ICA SAN DIEGO

About Interface 2024 – 2025

For its 2024 season, the Institute of Contemporary Art, San Diego celebrates the region as a hub of boundary pushing innovation in both art and the life sciences. Interface, the collective title for the 2024-2025 exhibition season, invites audiences to consider how art can mediate, translate, and expand the relationship between humans and the science of everyday life. In addition to ICA San Diego's annual NextGen exhibition celebrating local emerging talent, the Interface season will consist of six exhibitions spread over ICA's two campuses in Balboa Park and Encinitas. ICA hosts complimentary monthly public C You Saturday! events with exclusive access to artist talks, exhibition tours, food and music.

About the Institute of Contemporary Art, San Diego

ICA San Diego is a living laboratory for expanding the transformational power of art to build vibrant communities. Founded in 2021, yet built on over 100 years of combined experience, our programming is cutting edge yet accessible; daring and thoughtful; challenging and inviting. Our exhibitions, installations, commissions, classes, and workshops reflect ICA San Diego's commitment to engage the issues of the moment and provide a space for the community to come together and consider the world in which we live. ICA San Diego welcomes everyone to gather, learn, question, and experience the new. There is no admission fee to visit our exhibitions, and donations are welcome.
